Weston Blakeslee, PhD is the Chief Clinical Officer at RxRevu. He leads RxRevu's clinical team made up of pharmacists and physicians, forges the clinical strategy for RxRevu's SwiftRx® product suite, and leads the innovation arm of the company, ensuring that each effort improves the entire healthcare value chain, most importantly for patients.

Weston has secured ~$1M in non-dilutive funding to pursue innovative clinical decision support projects at RxRevu, focused on: medication price transparency, antimicrobial stewardship, heart failure, behavioral health/PGx, and general pediatrics. He was the principal investigator on the ONC's High Impact Pilot Award that focused on point of care medication pricing transparency from the fall of 2016 to the spring of 2018, and has been collaborating with the ONC on national initiatives ever since.

Weston earned his BA in Biochemistry from the University of Colorado-Boulder, and PhD in Pharmacology from the University of Colorado-Anschutz Medical Campus. He has vast drug development experience ranging from basic molecular biology to human clinical trials. His passion for improving the way patient symptoms are managed with pharmacotherapy led him to join RxRevu in October of 2015.
